3. Celebration of Akshay Urja Divas

Our department had celebrated the Akshay Urja Divas, also known as the Renewable Energy Day, is held every year on August 20 to increase public awareness of the recent progress in India's use of renewable energy. The late Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi's birth anniversary is also celebrated on this day. The Akshay Urja Divas, which strives to raise public awareness about the usage of natural resources including hydropower, solar energy, wind energy, and biogas, becomes important to observe since the earth's resources continue to diminish at an alarming rate every day.
